Spain Golf Courses

Valderrama (Handicap M:24 W:32)

In November 1991, Valderrama was voted the number one golf course in Europe. Its architect, the world acclaimed Robert Trent Jones, has long regarded the design of the course as one of his finest achievements. Set in beautiful Southern Spain, the course was originally known as the Sotogrande New and later as las Aves. In 1985, it was acquired by Sr. Jaime Ortiz Patino and his associates whose aim was to transform the course into a true Championship venue to rival the very best courses in the world.

La Cala North & South (Handicap M:28 W:36)

Two fine 18 hole courses: La Cala Norte and La Cala Sur are complemented superbly by an elegant and comfortably appointed colonial styled clubhouse. It also boasts a David Leadbetter Golf Academy that includes six-hole par three "executive" course.

Alcaidesa Links (Handicap M:28 W:36)

Alcaidesa Links Golf Club which opened in 1992, is an experience that cannot be found anywhere else in Spain; it is the first true links course in the country. Located to the west of Sam Roque, in an area rich with enthusiastic golfers the course has recently undergone an extensive program of remodeling; fairways have been improved and widened.

La Quinta (Handicap M:26 W:34)

Situated in "The Golf Valley", commands the best panoramic views of the mountains and the Marbella coastline. Consists of three combinable courses. The course is very demanding due to the design of the fairways and the excellent quality of the greens.

Los Naranjos (Handicap M:27 W:35)

As implied by its name, Los Naranjos is set within a series of orange groves. Designed by Robert Trent Jones, the creator of Valderrama, this is one of Spain's finest courses, offering all golfers the enviable opportunity to enjoy the facilities of a top-class venue. Its two nine-hole courses each offer individual challenges, as the outward nine lies over hilly countryside, whilst the returning holes meander through flat olive groves.

San Roque (Handicap M:28 W:36)

Inspired by former Ryder Cup captain, Tony Jacklin, and devised by architect Dave Thomas, this course was opened in 1990. Designed as two nines to provide a varied and exciting challenge, San Roque offers sufficient complexity to test the abilities of even the most proficient golfer. Amid breathtaking scenery, the course winds its way through a multitude of different landscapes, from valleys of cork oaks and bubbling streams to open meadowland.

Sotogrande (Handicap M:25 W:30)

The Club de Golf Sotogrande was founded in 1964 and is located in a perfectly natural surrounding for the practice of golf all through the year. Anyone who played the course will be able to confirm it has a very special design, its beauty enhanced by the varied vegetation.

Torrequebrada (Handicap M:27 W:35)

The 18 holes of Golf Torrequebrada are situated between the Mediterranean sea and the mountains. It is rich in tropical vegetation and birds. The large number of lakes and strategically placed bunkers, every hole is a different experience for the player.

Almenara (Handicap M:28 W:34)

This is an 18 hole golf course set in the upper part of Sotogrande, 500 metres from Valderrama and, five minutes from the beach surrounded by cork oak trees, wild pines and several streams as well as a natural lake, all of which serve to make this a very beautiful course.

Spain Sightseeing

Marbella

Marbella enjoys beautiful landscape providing the backdrop to the many golf courses located in the area and which are famous the world over. Places of interest to visit in Marbella are: Bonsai Museum, Museum of Contemporary Engravings, Old Town, Orange Square, Parque dal Constitution, City Walls, Seafront Promenade, El Fuerte Beach, Marbella Mosque.

Ronda

A beautiful drive and only one hour from Marbella through the impressive Serrania de Ronda, where lots of wildlife species and plants can be found. The city is divided into three quarters. The oldest one has the structure of a Moorish town and is situated on a point west and north protected by a gorge, which is 1km long and 100m deep, dug by the river Guadalevin. The 'San Francisco' quarter (Saint Francis), in the south, outside the old city precinct, is more rural. From there, the Christian troops laid siege to the city in the 15th century. The 'Mercadilo' quarter (street market), in the north of the city, on the other side of the gorge, began to develop in the 16th century, but it underwent its largest expansion in the 18th and 19th centuries. Its streets meet in right angles. It is the shopping part of the city with pedestrian streets. The old and the new and one of the oldest bull rings in Spain. There's just a little bit of magic about Ronda and something for everyone to see!

Malaga

The coast of Province of Malaga has a wonderful climate, short mild winters, hospitable towns people, and glorious landscapes. Since the beginning of the twentieth century, travelers from all over the world have chosen to stay here, baptizing it with a name that is recognized the world over: the Costa del Sol.

Fuengirola

The city of Fuengirola is in the middle of the Costa del Sol. Its seafront is seven kilometers of fine sands and excellent services. The Moorish castle of Sobail, located on a promontory overlooking the sea, offers a magnificent view of the city and the coast. Fuengirola's maritime and fishing tradition lives on in one of the best marinas on the Mediterranean and in the superlative gastronomy.

Mijas

Mijas combines ocean and mountain. Near its beaches, there are residential areas and tourist services. As we climb the sunny hillside, the sea comes into view. The rugged beauty of Mijas captivates anyone who decides to ascend its steep streets on the back of a donkey-taxi.
