

USA : Hilton Head, SC Golf Vacations!

Hilton Head, SC Golf Vacations!

There is a reason why residents and returning visitors to Hilton Head Island affectionately refer to the destination as "The Golf Island." In fact, the game of golf has been a Lowcountry tradition since the first Scottish immigrants to South Carolina organized America's first golf club in 1786. Hilton Head Island is home to more than 30 championship golf courses. Golf enthusiasts will delight in the wide and scenic fairways of the Island's courses, created by golf's most preeminent architects. Annually the Island hosts the Worldcom Classic-The Heritage of Golf at Harbour Town Golf Links in Sea Pines. Each year this tournament brings to town some of the top names on the PGA Tour.

Hilton Head is full of golf that is both challenging and rewarding. Come experience the spectacular beauty and charm of Hilton Head Island as only SGH Golf can deliver.

Hilton Head, SC Golf Courses

Harbour Town Golf Links

For many years this venue has been considered a benchmark against which all courses are measured, Harbour Town Golf Links is home to one of the top events on the PGA Tour, the MCI Classic. This Pete Dye-Jack Nicklaus designed course occupies a spectacular setting on the inland coast of Hilton Head Island. This facility has become a symbol for excellence in the world of golf, and yearly makes everyone's list of Top-50 in the USA. It was recently acclaimed the 57th best course in the world by Golf Digest.

Sea Pines - Ocean Course

Among the oldest golf courses in the Hilton Head area, the Ocean course at Sea Pines has just recently, (Spring 96) undergone a complete renovation by PGA Pro-Architect Mark Mccumber. It has been brought truly up-to-date and reflects a real challenge with a variety of shot opportunities for golfers of all skill levels. If your staying on Hilton Head Island you should seriously consider this as an candidate for your "must play" list. You will not be disappointed.

Palmetto Dunes - Robert Trent Jones

The oldest course at Palmetto Dunes and is a long-time favorite on the island. This facility features an extensive lagoon system which winds through the course impacting play on eleven holes. Add some of Jones' seemingly patented bunkers and large, well-bunkered greens and you've got plenty of good golf ahead of you here. This Palmetto Dunes Resort course is well-known for its many views of the ocean. The finest is found at the 10th hole, a par-5 on the card of 540 yards. Its green is set out by the ocean, and it takes three good shots to reach it when the wind is blowing in your face.

Old South

Award-winning golf course architect Clyde Johnston designed Old South Golf Links in keeping with the beautiful low-country's natural landscape. "Old South Golf Links was designed not only to provide an enjoyable yet challenging golf game, but also to preserve the natural beauty of the land", said Johnston. "I felt that this was an opportunity to allow the golfer to experience up close the uniqueness of the site, its natural amenities and spectacular views".

Daufuskie Island Resort

This latest Club Corp. Of America; (Pinehurst, The Homestead) resort offers 2 superb signature courses on a private island, (accessible only by boat), adjacent to Hilton Head Island. Bloody Point (Weiskopf/Morrish) is a Parkland-style course offering spectacular scenery as many of its holes border the ocean, marshes, and rivers. Melrose,(the Nicklaus course), features 3 breathtaking oceanfront finishing holes.

Hilton Head, SC Sightseeing

In the past 40 years, with the development of Hilton Head Island and the surrounding area, that tradition has expanded to include some of the best golf courses found anywhere in America. Today there are more than 20 championship golf courses located on Hilton Head Island, with an equal number open for play nearby in the surrounding Lowcountry woodlands and wetlands. While four of those layouts are perennially ranked among the nation's Top 100 by industry publications, all enjoy the benefits of the area's florid natural scenery and are maintained to the highest standards of course conditioning. From the holes that literally overlook the Atlantic Ocean to a variety of picturesque wetland settings to parkland layouts framed by tall pines and ancient oaks, Hilton Head-area golf courses have earned an undeniable reputation for world-class quality.
